DOWNWARD COURSE

Fast Being Realized By Norway People

A little backache at first.

Daily increasing 'till the back is lame and weak.

Urinary disorders may quickly follow;

Dropsy and often Bright's disease.

This frequently is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this 'course. Follow the advice of a Norway citizen.

Mrs. Mary Gammon, 14 Beal St., says:

"I have kept Doan's Kidney Pills on hand for years, in fact, ever since I first took them some years ago. The symptoms I noticed at that time indicated kidney complaint. There was a dull heavy ache across the small of my back and often attacks of dizziness came over me. Doan's Kidney Pills which I got from Frank Kimball's Drug Store, proved fine in relieving me of these troubles. I take Doan's off and on now and couldn't wish for anything better to keep my kidneys in good condition."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's

Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Gam-

mon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs.,

child's nerves

During childhood years the nerves are delicate and easily disturbed.

Sleeplessness, restlessness, and other nervous attacks often indicate worms. Worms are a common disorder with children and weaken the nervous system if not attended to promptly.

Keep a bottle of "L.F." Atwood's

Medicine ready at all times. A good dose taken at the first sign of any such trouble, will quickly establish a normal, healthy state, improve the digestion, and purify the blood.

General health will be improved and many serious attacks ward off by small doses, taken regularly.

You are taking no risk in using this well-known household remedy, which has helped the digestion and health

What's done as much as anything else to fill up the movie houses

LOOK at the crowds that step out of their cars in front of the movies every summer evening.

The movie managers would be renting half of their theatres for store space, if it weren't for the automobile.

Select your tires according to the roads
they have to travel:

In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The
U. S. Nobby.

For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.

For front wheels—
The U. S. Plain.

For best results—
everywhere—U. S.
Royal Cords.

ROYAL CORD—NOBBY—CHAIN—USCO—PLAIN

It is typical of Americans that they took to the automobile as a matter of course
—just as they have to the movies and to every other great invention of the last half century.

And the same thing has happened everytime. Taking things as they come is a fine way to foster waste and extravagance.

As regards tires, the comeback is about due. People are pretty near through paying for something that isn't there when they look for it.

III

What a man pays for in a tire is quality—not a limited number of miles or the privilege of getting a rebate in case the miles don't come up to the limit.

U. S. Tires are as to quality—with no limitation of mileage.

And that holds just as good for the small car tire as for the biggest U. S. Tire we've got. There's only one standard of quality with U. S.—and the size of the car has nothing whatever to do with it.

IV

We represent U. S. Tires in this town. You'll find it worth while to talk to us before you buy any more tires.

Every motor highway and byway throughout picturesque New England and New York is a part of the long "Socony Trail".

Webb House, Wethersfield, Conn., in which, on May 21, 1781, Washington and Rochambeau planned the siege and capture of Yorktown.

FROM Wethersfield, Conn., to old Provincetown, down on the Cape, and from there to Niagara Falls—over the city boulevards and all along "the trail"—you can find the familiar Socony sign. It is the symbol of a superior product and supreme service.

It has always been the policy of the Standard Oil Company of New York to anticipate the public needs for gasoline and motor oils. Along a newly opened road or in a recently developed suburb, the Socony sign of quality and service is invariably there to supply the needs of every motorist.

And Socony service fulfills the weekly demand for one drum of gasoline or a hundred, with equal promptness and care.

Socony gasoline is a standard-quality motor fuel—always uniform, always clean, always powerful. It is chock full of mileage. It represents a half-century of experience and constant improvement.

For permanent motoring satisfaction and economy, fill up regularly at the red, white and blue Socony sign.

HARTFORD
Warren Randall, wife and three children of Avon, Mass., are visiting his father, Mr. A. Randall and sister, Mrs. Muriel Foote.
Henry Stokes of New York and Milton Luce gave a pleasing duet of song and violin at the M. E. Church, Sunday, August 1st.
On the night of August 2, during the thunder shower, lightning struck in the hill pasture belonging to John Marston, killing three sheep, two lambs, a two year old heifer and a Holstein yearling belonging to Allen Marston, and a calf of J. W. Borland's. They were all found lying under a large birch tree. Dynamite was used to help make a place large enough to bury them.
Rev. D. B. Holt visited the Hartford Charge and gave a short talk on what he heard at the last general conference of the M. E. Church at Des Moines, Iowa.
Harley Riley of Portland has been helping J. C. Marston with the haying and shingling the house.
A. G. Marston is building another chimney on the north side of his house.
E. F. Bryant, wife, and sons, Jesse and Basil, went on a trip to White Cap Mt., near Rumford, where they were joined by two other parties and spent the night camping. They returned with a good supply of blueberries.
Mrs. Ida Shaw of Fort Myers, Fla., and Mary Johnson of Canton Point are visiting Mrs. Wm. Morse of East Oxford.
If the public can use it, advertising will sell it. This never fails. It is only a matter of knowing that an ad in the Intelligence Column of this paper will bring results. Others have had success by means of it, why not you?

VISIT TO FRUITLANDS

Written By Mrs. A. E. K. Grover
Fruitlands, Still River, Harvard, Massachusetts was the home of the transcendentalists in the year 1843. Amos Bronson Alcott, father of Louisa M. Alcott, was at the head of the experiment of living the simple life, and on July 22 we visited "Fruitlands." This house dates back to sometime in 1710—1717, as obtainable data gives, or the first owner a man by the name of John Bush, the place changed hands several times, and when Clara Sears purchased it the owner was Abel Willard and the colonial kitchen had fallen into a dilapidated condition.

The house has been restored to its original appearance at the time when the transcendental philosophers took it where they tried living as a co-sociate family, as they called it. This family consisted of Amos Bronson Alcott, and family, and other notable men, Charles Lane, and son William, Henry Goodwin and Samuel Bowers, whom Mr. Alcott induced to come here. They were known as the English mystics. This New Eden, as they called it is on the West slope of Makamachekamuck hill quite a distance from the main road, but Miss Sears has had a road of many turns made so that autos can go to the house very comfortably.

The path that formerly led to the house (there never was a road) was in a straight line down quite a sharp incline. As you near the house, you first see the well-house, which is doing business on the "old oaken bucket" plan, with a windlass (formerly done with a hooked stick.)

The grainery has been made into a small rent for the caretaker. All visitors enter at the door in the end of the house and step immediately into the long kitchen. The noon-mark cut in the floor so many, many years ago is plainly visible just at the right as one enters. This room has relics from the plow and yoke to powder plates including a grandfather clock, highboy, ancient desk, books, old time pictures. The fireplace (of which there are seven in the house) had a baker and at one side an old time sausage filler hung.

We would say the team used to plow with an ox and a cow. The refectory table and benches were interesting for they spoke of the "feasts of season" held. The real colonial kitchen has a fire-place for cordwood, and candle molds iron candlesticks snuffers and old flint lock guns are on the walls, queer shaped old jugs. Flax wheels and spinning wheels are in two of the rooms, with reels and swifts.

The chairs in the small dining room are of early Jacobean and date about 1700. A bust of A. Bronson Alcott is in one corner of the room, and pictures of Emerson, Thoreau, Channing, Hawthorne, Lane, Gardiner, Bowers and Mr. and Mrs. Alcott adorn the walls.

The small entry and Study beyond has many books, ancient furniture and the highboy decorated with Hungarian wood is very attractive. Up stairs there are two canopy topped beds and one old, old cord bed all dressed in counterpane and bolster of old time flowered copper plate, trunks, and chests and a few articles of clothing which belonged to Mr. A. Bronson Alcott, and old time pitchers and bowls are found.

The Alcotts cradle was in the unplastered room. A chest brought from England by Charles Lane has a lock of intricate make, and the key is surely six inches long. Lane's umbrella makes one think of old Cy Prime in the "Old Home stead." The china dishes will be readily recalled by readers of "Little Women" as it was used at the mock wedding.

All the fireplaces have andirons with trig and two kitchen crosses. The upstairs is reached by an old time closed-in stairway with the cellar stairs underneath. We rattled the latches on the doors in the vain hopes of awakening echoes of gone days. A bust of Socrates adorns a highboy and was carried by the Alcotts wherever they moved. Many antique letters and writings of the famous men and women who are friends of the family are in evidence. Emerson was interested though not of the family.

There are many things of interest which we have not space to mention, but one cannot go from room to room without being deeply impressed with the thought that so many of our deepest thinkers and best writers, men and women who have left an everlasting impress on the world, found it good to gather there for uplifting communion. The greatest charm to us was that we were really in halls of learning; as the atmosphere in every room seemed to vibrate with the waves of thought that emanated from the minds of those profound thinkers who were inspired to demonstrate a life of development of soul paramount to the ordinary life. The old house, a silent witness to all that transpired in those days long gone, seems yet to "speak" so fraught it is with "association" and the current thoughts of those whose lives and works it is a delight to honor. We count it a day well spent.

MORE SEA BREEZES

Great Diamond Island, Portland Harbor, August 10, 1920.

Editor of the Advertiser: We have been here just three weeks and have not quite got comfortably settled yet, but will "land it" all right before Saturday night. Then there will be something doing.

I was invited to attend a meeting of the stockholders of the Island Association at the Hall Thursday evening, last, and went. I met with a most cordial reception. I learned that some preferred stock was to be issued to pay up an old debt. There is nothing like this kind of a scheme to produce the warmest welcome to a newcomer who is considered able and willing to lend a helping hand, but more especially money.

Amendments to the by-laws of the association were adopted, increasing the number of directors and creating the office of vice president. I imagine they will say by and by, "Come on in, the water is fine." I don't care for any responsibility, but I am one of those now interested in the welfare of the Island and the welfare of its summer residents and shall do my part.

Charles F. Flagg is president and one of the ablest members of the Association. He is a very pleasant gentleman to meet and a good business man—bond dealer in the city. He has a fine cottage here, and is one of the aristocracy of the Island. We haven't met his good wife yet, but a number have said, "You will like Mrs. Flagg."

James H. Day and his estimable and cultivated wife also belong to the aristocracy of the place. They have known them the longest. Mr. Day is one of the directors. He is a member of the well known firm of hardware dealers on Middle Street, Portland. Emery Waterhouse Co., and is vice president of that corporation. He reminds me of the late James O. Crocker. The view from the piazza of his cottage of the inner bay and mainland is very fine.

Capt. George C. Owen has a fine farm on the island and raises big crops. He invited me up Sunday to look it over. It was so hot I put off my call and went across the street and sat for an hour or more under the spreading branches of a giant oak. Got up after a time and measured the circumference of its trunk. It was fifteen feet. The longest limbs reached out seventeen paces. After a little time a sea breeze sprang up and it was cool and delightful the rest of the day.

Charles H. Foster, whom I mentioned in my last week's communication, is a relative of our Henry B. Foster. Their grandfathers were brothers and they were reared near Norway Center. Charles H. has a streak of humor in him. One of his associates, on the Board of Directors, is a middle-aged bachelor. He lives with two unmarried sisters. "They are three old maids," said Mr. Foster one day, after they had made us a call. Perhaps, but we liked all three, especially the brother. Years ago they had resided at South Paris. Mrs. Foster reminds me of Eben Shackley's daughter, Angie, who married a carpenter and is now deceased. She was a member of one of my classes in the old Norway Liberal Institute. No one could help liking her, she had such a pleasant disposition.

Charles F. Safford is a neighbor. He is a bookkeeper in the Brown Company establishment up in the city. It employs hundreds of hands and does an immense business reading into the millions monthly. Mr. Safford doesn't always "hitch up" with the "high-fliers." He wants the trees in the Association's Park trimmed up and weeds there cut down. His view of the bay, once very good, is now obstructed. It happens also that the view from our piazza in that direction is interfered with. I have received assurances from some in authority that this clearing up of the park will be done. I have faith that it will be as I promised to contribute toward the accomplishment of the work. It generally leaves a better "taste in the mouth" to say, "I'll help" than to urge that others should do what is desired. The great stream of travel to and from the landing passes our cottage and I noted the leading citizens were pleased at my trimming up the trees on our lot and making improvements. The cottage next to ours is for sale. I hear it can be bought at a bargain. Hope Mr. Leon L. Longley, whom I mentioned the matter to, may purchase it. We would very much like to have his family for our neighbors.

Samuel A. Stevens has a fine flower garden, also a vegetable garden. His lot is situated south of the Association Park. It is surrounded by tall bushes and the ground sloping towards the bay. He has no fears of winds or rain. He says for fifteen years he has been collecting rare flowering plants, not one of which is common. He has 300 varieties of dahlias and no two are alike. One—the only one in existence—he thinks he found in the garden of an old lady in Massachusetts and paid her $5.00 for it. This is his special favorite. "Come in a week when it is in bloom," said Mr. Stevens, "if you want to see one of the most beautiful of flowers." I shall go.

Vernon W. Kimball is a young business man of about 23 years of age. He is employed in the firm of Richardson Hill & Co., stockbrokers in the city. Mr. Kimball married a Portland lady last spring and has a cottage here for the season. He was born in Bethel. I got acquainted with him some two years ago and found him to be thoroughly reliable and one who will surely make his mark in the business world. He is perfectly trustworthy. From him I learned of this place which I bought. His wife's mother lived with the young couple and an aunt has been with them also for the most of the time that we have been here. They all seem like old acquaintances. Mrs. Kimball has been employed in one of the business houses of the city. He is a general favorite with all who know her and is as pretty as she is smart and good.

I was greatly interested to see a man the other day moving a lawn with a gasoline lawn mower. It cut the grass very close to the ground.

"The most attractive place is down on the private pier of the association, but a few rods from the cottage. One should go there at about flood tide. Then the bathers come and dive off the end of the pier, where the water is deepest. Fishing and pleasure boats are generally seen in all directions in the bay, and occasionally a sailing vessel will be noticed coming up by the inside of the western hills. The sun goes down behind the western hills, dusk succeeds the glory of the unclouded sunset, and we start back to the cottage while the lights begin to twinkle on the further shore and from buildings in the city. We no longer a few moments to note the change as the stars come out in the sky. It is a pleasant sight. Who would not be charmed with it?"

DO LOWER TAXES INTEREST YOU?

Suppose the people of Maine have ten million dollars to invest through the next twelve months in hydro-electric securities. And suppose they put it all in the hydro-electric companies of one state. That state will have, a year from now, ten million dollars' worth more taxable property than it had before. This assures correspondingly lower taxes.

IF YOU INVEST IN MAINE, YOU INVEST TO CUT DOWN TAXES

When you invest in Central Maine Power Company 7 per cent. Preferred Stock your money goes into power houses, dams, wheels, generators, etc., and into poles, lines, and the like—all taxable property, and all located in Maine.

The development of more hydro-electric power will bring industries to Maine and will promote the growth of those now here—which means still more taxable property and more people to pay the taxes.

When you invest in Central Maine Power Company 7 per cent. preferred stock, you pay $107.50 a share and you get a return of 6½ per cent. net.

Unquestionably you can buy a lot of preferred stocks at a lower price and a higher yield.

But after all, which pays the home investors best—to invest in the South or West, perhaps at a higher rate of yield; or to invest at home in Central Maine Preferred—and get safety, 6½ per cent. net, lower taxes and greater prosperity.

What Our Advertising Man Saw
In a Boston Street Car, and the Car Was

CROWDED

A polite young man surrendered his seat to a strange young lady—with hesitation. "What's the matter with you," asked his companion, "don't you know that isn't being done this season?"

"I know it isn't—but standing saves the creases in my trousers," replied the polite young man as he gazed down at a practically bagged pair of knees.

Our idea of this situation is that it must be aggravating when a fellow has to take such precautions to save his appearance.

A KUPPENHEIMER suit would have saved him the trouble of being so polite—and speaking to a young lady he did not know.

BACK HURT

ALL THE TIME

Mrs. Hill Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Removed The Cause.

Knoxville, Tenn.—"My back hurt me all the time, I was all run down, could not eat and my head bothered me, all caused by female trouble. I was three years with these troubles and doctors did me no good. Your medicine helped my sister so she advised me to take it. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and now I am well, can eat heartily and work. I give you my thanks for your great medicines. You may publish my letter and I will tell everyone what your medicines did for me."—Mrs. Pearl Hill, 418 Jacksonboro St., Knoxville, Tennessee.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

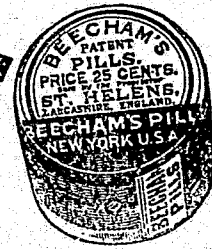

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Norway's Dollar Day

Thrifty and prudent shoppers will not neglect to visit Norway Saturday, August 14. Money will talk with discounts and mark-downs can be seen on all sides. The dollar will expand in purchasing value, therefore you are making a neat profit when exchanging coin for goods.

Only live merchants dare plunge at this stage of the merchandising game. Market conditions are strenuous and only the keen and far visioned dare cut away even for a day with a discount race on staple goods.

In childhood, the one ring circus left pleasant memories of elephants, clowns, acrobats and pink lemonade. Dollar Day with the stores in line for action, stocked with clean goods for pleasure, comfort, and health, will send you home satisfied with life. The bargains and personal experience will prove a constant reminder of a wonderful day spent in Norway.

Shop early and visit friends later. Many bargains are in small lots and will disappear like morning dew. An extra selling force will be at your service, but if the stores are crowded, only smile and wait patiently.

You were here last year and helped Norway break the record. Come again Saturday and we will cooperate, not only to beat that high mark, but to make the day one of pleasure and good fellowship.

Visited By Three Trucks

We have recently been found by unusual visitors, of much interest, not only to the county at large as effecting transportation, but to individuals, who are interested in traffic and progressive measures. We refer to the three Meach trucks, made by the International Motor Co. of New York. They are on a trip testing improvements from New York City to Bangor, Me., in charge of 3 chauffeurs and 1 engineer, and plan to make about 150 miles daily. A. F. Masury, chief engineer and vice president of the company, accompanied by W. C. Merrill, president of the W. S. Merrill Co. of New York City, with chauffeur Richmond accompanied the outfit, visiting Bass Island, where Mr. Masury, Sr., an old time visitor to Norway—and a member of Bass Island Club, is enjoying a short sojourn, accompanied by friends from Salem and Danvers.

These trucks are quite well known and noted for their efficiency. They have been adopted by the U. S. army equipment department as a standard equipment where about 5,000 of them are in use, not only in America, but in France and England.

England and France have two or three hundred, all having given very efficient service throughout the world war, and are still engaged in the work of rehabilitating the war-torn France and Belgium.

Percival Hathaway formerly principal of Norway High School, called on friends here Friday. He arrived that day from Chicago, Ill., where he is in the city and after spending a short time at South Paris is returned to his work.

The new fire whistle was given a practical test Thursday afternoon. An alarm from box 62 called the department to a warehouse on Water Street. The alarm was joined by the land used by C. B. Cummings & Sons Co. for storing lumber. The fire threatened the lumber piles, the woods and houses near the end of Whitman street, but no damage resulted.

Former students of Gould Academy, Bethel, in the years 1888-89 have received invitations to the annual get-together to be held at the Academy Wednesday, Aug. 18. This is a pleasant reunion and many from Norway and vicinity will undoubtedly attend.

Mrs. Caroline Winchester, of Manchester-by-the-Sea is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Fred E. Drake and mother, Mrs. Clara A. Hayden, Pleasant street.

C. C. Virgin and family from Portland have been visiting J. P. Penley on Paris street, also Orin Black and wife from Portland spent a week here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Penley have been spending a few days at James Bumpus' in Paris, Mr. Penley has been helping Mr. Bumpus with his hay.

Tel. Young has resigned as driver of the motor bus and formed a partnership with Bill Richardson. They plan to sell lunches, cool drinks, and frankfords at the fairs until October. Bridgton was the opening stand this week.

Startling posters announced the big show featuring magic, ninth and pictures held in "Favor's barn" Saturday p. m. James N. Favor's stable was the place and Henry Favor with a small army of assistants gave an elaborate program including "a dancing skeleton," "Prof. Ham and Hobo, the nigger," "A magic flower pot and other strange acts vent on. Root beer replaced red lemonade. Two ticket deals were necessary, one admitted and another paid for the seat.

Charles H. Seavey has been laid up with a severe cut on the left hand caused by glass.

A wheel suddenly collapsing stalled Carroll Bartlett and his load of hay on Main street, Thursday afternoon. Another outfit was secured and part of the hay transferred after considerable flurry. The wreck was removed Friday after Bill Scheffeld made repairs.

Homer Truman has been the steeple-jack cutting away decayed limbs from the tall elms along Main street. George Boulter and other assistants handled the ropes from the sidewalk.

A party including Scott Pottle, Clayton Murch, Ralph Kilgore, and Roland Kilgore visited Greenwood Ice Caves one day recently and surprised at the natural wildness and beauty so near home. Many years ago the place was the mecca for summer tourists. Gasoline motored the spot into oblivion and opened wider fields for observation.

D. L. Joslin is having a vacation of two weeks from the F. L. Pike Co. Blue Store. The family are occupying their cottage at the Poland Camp Ground and will remain through the Epworth League Institute. Mr. Joslin announces two hundred and fifty applications have been received from this district for accommodations during the meetings.

Mrs. T. L. Heath advertised in the Intelligence Column Thursday, the loss of a wallet containing money. Willard B. Lebrake found the property several days before, and naturally watched the local paper. Mrs. Heath received her money within two hours after the Advertiser left the press. Moral: It pays to be honest, and it pays to use printer's ink.

George Hall, Elton L. Brown, Ted Young and Bill Richardson are one of the parties to the automobile races at Dover, N. H., Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Starbird, Alfred Ramsdell and Katherine Ramsdell motored around the White Mountains recently via Pinkham Notch.

Norway Lake Supply Co.

BIG BARN DOOR ECHOES

I've been out of print for a long time. The fact is, I've been too busy to waste time scribbling. Catching trout in Moosehead, Penobscot waters and the Rangeley System has occupied all my time. I'll not say how many fish I've taken. It would be considered a lie anyhow. I have returned to Meredith Center, N. H., and here is an installment of literary slush:

We arrived at the Barn Doors at 5:30 o'clock, having left Norway at 12:55 p. m., Friday, July 30, distance 84.7 miles in 5 hours and 25 minutes. Seven years ago Bert Frost brought us here in 6 hrs., 10 minutes and the registered distance was 84.4 miles. Last year, with the same car, the speedometer showed 84.2, hence there is a variation of a half mile. The same route was taken each time.

We came through East Waterford, Bridgton, Fryeburg, Conway, West Ossipee, to Meredith. The roads have been improved in the seven years and with the exception of perhaps six miles might be called good. That is after you get to Fryeburg. From Norway to 4 miles of Fryeburg village the roads are bad—worn out—notwithstanding some of the way is over the famous "T. R. Trail" which someone says means Terrible Rough instead of Theodore Roosevelt.

A heavy wind accompanying a terrific thunder shower of Saturday evening (July 31) blew down a fir tree. It fell with a great thud amid the crash of lightning and downpour of water. That it disturbed me and the rest of the folks is true. An electric bolt from somewhere in the sky knocked rocks out of a wall less than a hundred feet from where we were. The rain, darkness, growling and twisting trees illuminated by lightning was startling to say the least.

The fallen tree, with a dozen others, was set out as a wind break for the buildings in 1867, hence had been here 53 years and was 72 feet tall and was 31 inches in diameter, 5 feet from the ground, where it broke. It was 42 ft. from the barn and had it been so inclined could have easily smashed the ridgepole and driven me from my office.

The up-ended fir was loaded with seed cones—some bushels of them—they were filled with pitch or fir-balsam. Many of the big pines are top-heavy with cones. They bloomed last year and are growing seed this year. I'm told that is the way they do. Also that pines bear no seed only once in seven years. I do know there are long intervals that we are out of pine cones for kindling wood, hence conclude they are not an annual crop. There are sufficient cones on the trees to assure cone-kindling-wood for the next two years.

I've been told lightning never strikes an elm. This is wrong. An elm in the burying ground was recently struck and eight feet of a cement wall and two checked adders ruined. I'm to see John Jackson to relay the wall. He is the only buncombe wall builder in this vicinity and gets what he asks for his work.

Blueberries are few. I have picked some at three different times. It takes an hour or ten minutes to collect a quart one or two at a time. Slow work! The bushes bloomed well and no one will admit they were frost struck, but I guess they were or else there would be more berries.

The recent big wind flattened the corn fields and caused anxiety to the owner that they would not "rise and grow again" but I notice the corn is straightening up and is looking all right. Eight and twelve-rowed flint corn interspersed with an occasional "red-ear" is raised here. There are no corn canning shops in this section.

Lottie Smith had home-raised ripe tomatoes Sunday, August 1st, also a last spring pullet that is laying eggs.

Arthur Smith is to "tear out" his patch of cultivated blackberries. In the past six years he has got one crop. They winter-kill and grow wood only. Wonder what is the cause? Alas! what is the remedy? Can't someone tell? Maybe we can save that blackberry patch.

John Frye Stearns, Lovell born, 92 years ago, recently looked over Concord from an airplane and got a write-up and his picture in a Boston paper. He is now living in New Jersey and is a regular subscriber to this paper and a relative of Dr. H. P. Jones of Norway.

All the Lovell Stearns family regardless of age are high flyers except Bert, who is willing to stay on earth and write letters to the Public Utility Commission of Maine.

Carl Blaisdell is digging a well. No, that is not exactly right. He is having it "drilled." That is the proper word. Well-digging belonged to stone wall people which is now happily passed and wells are drilled and not dug, even in rock-ribbed New Hampshire.

Charles Smith is punching a hole in the ledge near Carl's back door. The hole is over 80 feet deep at this writing and fills with water to 14 feet of the surface every night.

The man who is doing the drilling at six dollars a foot says the water-flow is going 1200 feet as Carl has a long pocket book and needs a deep well.

This man sits on a three-legged chair and listens to the thud of the 1600 pound drill in the rock beneath him. He uses a three-legged chair so when he goes to sleep he falls over and is woken up. At least I told him so and he didn't deny it. The hole is progressing at the rate of seven feet a day and Mr. Smith would be pleased to outshine the deepest hole (980 ft.) that he ever cut in the earth.

Let's they be forgot: The buildings at the State Home for the Feeble Minded are named for Governors of New Hampshire. Capital idea!

There are a half dozen governors so remembered at the "Home" in Lacombe. This institution is exceedingly prosperous. From a modest start, a fifth of a century ago, there is a flourishing colony that has spread like mustard seeds in an out field. There are over 400 at the Home and a waiting list reaching from Coos to the sea. More buildings are needed, hence more governors can be honored and remembered.

Nancy's babies, three of them, play in the yard, making sand heaps, forts and pies. Their father gets $5.00 per day working in a saw-mill and is not over happy, as he wants more pay to combat the high cost of living.

Apples are scarce this year. Only a few trees are bearing in Maine and a less number in New Hampshire. Of grafts about one tree in fifty have a half crop and older bearing trees are barren as they should be, under the recent constitutional amendment.

A bright-eyed pig with a musical voice is under the barn and always hungry. On a shingle near the meal chest is this legend:

June 12, '20—Pig, 49 1/2 lbs. $12.00
White Middlings 4.00
Bran 3.20
July—Stock Feed 4.00

This is the cost sheet and next November, should piggy survive his hunger that length of time, he will meet the usual fate of pigs and be cut up and weighed. If he does well and the balance sheet shows a good profit, an announcement will be made in the local paper in about these words: "O. E. Osgood has killed his pig and it weighed 250 pounds and what he fed it together with the first cost of the pig was $37.50, and pork at 30c a pound, $75.00. Hence the profit is $37.50 and Mr. Osgood gets pork for 15c a pound or about what it cost before the war."

This is the way Shortie Cook figures his pork raising ventures and he is authoritative.

One man with family left town this week because he could not live on five dollars a day and pay house rent, even though the 5-room house cost but $2.00 per month. He is to get $5.00 per day, house rent and fire wood on his new job. He is a wood chopper.

I paid 4 cents each for mongrel clay pipes made in this country. They are no good. "T. D." is stamped on the bowl and that is about all there is to them that resembles the genuine Glasgow-Scotland product.

Don Seitz writes: "I envy you vagabonding about the country the way you do and have about half made up my mind to quit my exacting job and do likewise." Don is the business manager of the New York World and is a busy man in big affairs.

I know he would balk at picking bushes of low-bush blueberries one at a time and casting a fly nine days without seeing a fish. He would soon want to return to his old job of kicking the World together and settle the fate of the League of Nations. Sure thing! He could never go vagabonding like I do. He is not built that way!

Big strike on in one of Scott & Williams factories or perhaps I should say "shops" as they are machinists and make knitting machines. Seven and eighty men and women are out and the Lakeport shop is picketed.

The Big Boss is in Europe and the wireless has been working overtime to get in touch with him and he remains silent. Most three weeks have passed and nothing done yet in the way of settling the fate of the country in a truck and furnish a good entertainment.

NORWAY,

A Double Opportunity To Save At The Merchant Store, Saturday, August 14th

At Our DOLLAR DAY and ANNUAL ANNIVERSARY SALE

Just A Great Big Opportunity To Save Money

Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the opportunities that are presented for substantial savings—we cannot give descriptions that will represent the merchandise—the stocks are too large and varied, but we mention certain groups that will serve in giving an idea of what may be expected throughout the store, a saving of 10, 25, 33 1-3 to 50 per cent.

One might say, "Why do you do this?" "Why are you reducing prices so much below the regular or prevailing prices when it is a known fact that the tendency of prices for Fall are in the direction of advances rather than reductions?"

It is the same old story, it has been our business policy for several years to CLEAN HOUSE TWICE EACH YEAR and clean thoroughly in preparation for the next season, that our store may always present entirely new and fresh merchandise; that our store thereby may increase its usefulness as a business enterprise in this community; that it may not be surpassed anywhere as a reliable and pleasing shopping place.

The wisdom of this policy and the advantages that accrue to all concerned have been demonstrated over and over again and now it has remained for the year 1920 to verify it more forcibly than at any time since the custom of holding such sales was first inaugurated. Buy now for your present and future needs.

MRS. KELLY IS NOW FULLY CONVINCED

Good Things Said Of Tanlac Ver-
fied By Her Own Experience
She Says

"I had taken Tanlac but a short while when I knew everything good I had heard said about it was true, for I never felt better in my life," said Mrs. Alice Kelly, 28 Pearl Street, South Portland, Me., recently.

"Before I started taking Tanlac," Mrs. Kelly continued, "I had suffered terribly for a year from indigestion. After every meal I would have such terrible cramping pains in the pit of my stomach I could hardly stand them, and gas would form and puff me up until I felt as though my breath was being shut off. Along toward the last, just before I started taking Tanlac I was so badly run-down and felt so tired all the time I could not do my housework, and had such a heavy sluggish feeling that I felt drowsy all the time.

"I had seen where Tanlac had benefited so many people that I decided to try it myself, and it soon rid me of all my troubles. I can now eat anything I want and all I want without having a sign of pain in my stomach or being troubled a particle with gas or shortness of breath. I never feel tired or sluggish any more and feel just as fresh as can be all during the day. My housework never tires me the least bit and is actually a pleasure to me, and in fact I feel just like a new person. I can not say too much for Tanlac, it has done so much for me."

Tanlac is sold in Norway by A. L. Clark Drug Co., in West Paris by S. T. White, and by O. H. Haskell, Sweden, R. F. D. from Harrison.
